

GARY ASCHENBACH JR. BIOGRAPHY

Mr. Gary Aschenbach Jr. has been a Special Agent with the United States Department of Defense since 2005. Among his many duty assignments, he has conducted in excess of 450 personnel interviews that are primarily focused on national security, intelligence gathering and other related safety measures and crimes. In January 2007, he was personally selected and approved to attend the prestigious “Defense Academy for Credibility Assessment” in South Carolina where he successfully completed an intensive four month training program in Forensic Psychophysiology and was ultimately certified as, and is currently, a federal polygraph examiner. To date he is credited with having conducted over 900 polygraph examinations while employing a myriad of those learned techniques in detecting deception in human behavior. He is classified as a senior polygraph examiner, and as such is considered to be an expert in the field of detecting deception. He is regularly sought after to conduct special interest polygraph examinations on behalf of the U.S. government. He is also the CEO of Law-Tech Consultants, LLC, a private investigative firm founded in 1996, which specializes in private investigations, consulting and training. He is licensed and certified by the Maryland State Police as a private investigator and authorized to carry a concealed weapon in the performance of his duties.